Program Overview

This program provides practical tools and strategies for the direct care workforce to improve the health conditions of people living with dementia while providing dementia-capable care. Learners will be given the opportunity to build foundational knowledge, prioritize their own well-being, and build a career pathway into the memory care specialization within their facility as a result of this workforce training.

Program Overview

OpusVi's Essentials of Person-Centered Memory Care program is recognized by the Alzheimer's Association® for successfully incorporating the evidence-based Dementia Care Practice Recommendations in the following topic areas:

- Alzheimer's and dementia
- Person-centered care
- Assessment and care planning
- Activities of daily living
- Behaviors and communication

This training allows learners to:

- Identify stages and diseases of dementia for providing dementia-capable care
- Establish person-centered approaches that support efficient workflow while creating an age-friendly organization
- Learn tools and strategies to stay safe within their working environments
- Enables them to manage daily routines and develop self-care practices to avoid burnout
- Sets healthcare workers up for success in building an elevated career path
