

Healthcare Project Management
Release date: 12/10/2020
Renewed date: 1/1/2025 Expiration date: 12/31/2025

Activity Overview

Co-developed with the expertise of leading project managers with experience in hospitals, pharmaceuticals, and other related fields, this certificate will teach the value of project management through real use cases. Participants will learn the essential elements of project management as outlined by the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK). The certificate introduces role-based project management examples and factors to consider in a healthcare organization.

Target Audience

This activity is intended to meet the needs of physicians, nurses and other healthcare professionals.

Learning Objectives

Upon completion of the educational activity, participants should be able to:

- Identify the tools and techniques best suited for project planning, including scope, time, cost, resource planning, monitoring and reporting.
- Recognize warning signs of project issues common to a variety of healthcare settings.
- Describe the leadership skills vital to thrive as a successful project manager in healthcare.
- Analyze strategies for successfully communicating with healthcare project stakeholders.
- Analyze strategies for managing risks and changes specific to projects.
- Decompose healthcare project scope into manageable work packages.
- Discuss the nuances of managing projects in healthcare.
- Differentiate between sequential and iterative life cycle models in Project Management
- Discuss the role that influencing organizational change plays in healthcare project success and identify tools to support change.
